FROM THE RACE STEWARD, MARY ANN HUTTON

While earthmoving equipment was rearranging the terrain around Western Speedway in Victoria, VMSC was still negotiating to keep their road course open. Some construction for the proposed RV park has already begun and the track was quite dusty in places for the May 30/31 races despite repeated sweepings.

The two particularly threatening features of the track-- Turn 1 and the oval's concrete wall--claimed three incidents on Sunday. No. 533c/w went through the tire wall at the bottom of Turn 1 in the first race resulting in front end damage and a substantial delay in the schedule while the car was excavated and the wall rebuilt. Then in the first lap of the second lap, No. 28 o/w also went through the wall at Turn 1 but managed to get the car back on the track about half way through the race and finish.

In the last lap of the last championship race of the day, between the last turn and the checkered flag, No. 47c/w and No. 07c/w (leading) made contact while racing for the class lead in CS/R. No. 47 continued on to finish first. No. 07 hit the concrete wall at high speed, then coasted very slowly across Start/Finish, stopping inches across the line for second place. No. 07 sustained heavy damage to the right rear of the car where it hit the wall.

As a result of the incident, No. 07 protested the driving of No. 47. A Review Board was assembled as provided for in Comp. Reg. 808(C) to review the incident which had been observed by several officials. The protest was denied finding No. 47 no more culpable than No. 07 under the circumstances, particularly in light of Comp. Reg. 1504. No. 07 filed an appeal of the denial of his protest, which is pending before the Contest Board at this writing.

At long last, the new Bell helmet is in stock. The new series comes in 2 styles, the M1 and XF M1. Basically, the M1 and XF M1 are the same helmet. Only difference is the XF is lined in Durette cloth for improved fire protection. And is available with life support system plumbing. The XF is white trimmed in blue. The M1 is silver with blue trim. The XF M1 is $250. and the M1 is $200. Another feature in the M1 and XF M1 is the adjustable pivot ratchet system that allows the shield to be put in 3 positions. They also have the Kam Lok system that enables the driver to close and lock the shield with one hand even with gloves on. There are thumb slots for easy open of shield. We have a limited stock at this time but should be one week delivery time by the end of June.

Demand for Silicone Brake Fluid seems to have taken a recent surge due to the US Government. Feb.20, 1981 the government announced, that after ten years of studies, they will convert all military vehicles to silicone brake fluids. The change over will not only reduce govt. spending (something we've all heard about) but will also have a positive impact on safety improvement. It is anticipated that OEM's won't be far behind with perhaps Chrysler Corp. taking the lead due to its defense division work. Extended warranties, installation efficiency, extended hydraulic system life and top performance under all conditions. Yankee Silicone Brake Fluid is available in pts., qts. and gal.
