Steward's Report

At the time of this writing, we have just finished three championship races and one enduro in four consecutive weekends. I covered 1540 miles just going and coming to the events. That is quite a stretch for those that made it to all four events. The weather was extraordinarily warm and sunny for the final Conference races followed by a beautifully wet, windy, blustery day for the Cascade 8 hour enduro (you may remember that I actually like the rain).

Many of the Championship classes went down to these last three events before being decided. The turnouts to each event were strong making for nice grids. The Saturdays were a cakewalk as very few turn reports were created and even fewer required action. The interesting thing during Sunday morning qualifying was the trend to pass under black-flag-all conditions. Not sure what to attribute this season end rash to. Ah well, it is kind of Scott's thing to figure out now.

Congrats to all the class champions for this year. See you all the banquet.

*Best Regards,
Rick Delamare, ICSCC Race Steward*
